Changing Guidance

Recent changes to the new HSE L8 Approved Code of Practice and HSG274 water hygiene guidance documents has brought many more systems into scope in terms of what management schemes different organisations need to have in place. This guidance affects all organisations in the Portable Sanitation industry and Green Compliance is able to assist in understanding what this means for management or duty holder responsibilities across water hygiene and legionella control.

Given the recent high profile series of significant Legionella outbreaks across the UK, this is an area of increased HSE activity and enforcement.
